Back Ground:

Professional development of teachers constitutes developing awareness about their role and responsibilities to the profession they are pursuing. It is often self-directed, involving reading, critical reflection, conscious analysis of oneself and one's own work and a keen observation of learners and learning strategies. To develop teachers professionally, it is necessary to provide support by formulating conducive policies, offering incentives and most of all understanding of their problems.

Sub-Themes:

- Issues & Challenges of Teacher Education in present scenario.
- Development of Teacher Educator policies & professional skills.
- Professional ethics and carrier enhancement.
- New trends in Educational technology and professional development.
- Use of ICT in professional development of teacher educator.
- Educational Management and Professional development.
- Personal value and professional development.
- Empowering professionalism through digital tools and contents.
