Dear Colleagues,

Jiwaji University, Gwalior (M.P.), India, in collaboration with the National Social Science Documentation Centre (NASSDOC), Indian Council of Social Science Research (ICSSR), New Delhi is organizing a three-day “Training Workshop on Various Trends of Information Communication Technology and Its applications in Social Science Information between January 31 and February 1-2, 2013 at School of Studies in Library & Information Science, Jiwaji University, Gwalior (M.P.).

The ICSSR training workshop will focus on the renewed role of libraries in promoting information resources in social sciences. In view of the ICSSR/ NASSDOC's emphasis on training and skill development of participants in the country, this workshop will be an effort in that direction to providing effective information services to the wider network of social science researchers in India.

The workshop is meant exclusively for candidates working as librarians, researchers in social sciences, and information managers of research institutions in India. There is no Course Fee. For outstation participants, No T.A. will be reimbursed. The participants will be provided with free lodging and boarding at University Guest House. A separate request should be made in the registration form for accommodation.

An early confirmation from the participants will enable us to reserve slot at this workshop which promises to be a vital learning experience for the participants. The climate in Gwalior in January will be cold.

The probable participants are requested to confirm their participation as early as possible (latest by January 10, 2013).
